The Fourth of July celebration at Huntingburg will be the best ever. Don't miss it.

The Home of the Soul.

In olden times, it was believed that the seat of the soul was the stomach, most likely for the reason that a man is never so completely used up as when his stomach is out of order. For the cure of the ordinary stomach troubles, there is nothing quite so prompt and satisfactory as Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

There will be something doing every minute at Huntingburg's 4th of July celebration—two balloon ascensions; base ball between Athletics and Ft. Branch, dancing; an athletic meet for southern Indiana, mule race, all day band concert. You can't afford to miss it.

Miss Cleda E. Kert left Friday for Madison, Wis., to attend college.

His Friend Recommended Them.

"Six years ago," writes W. H. Shadwell, Stanley, Va., "I had kidney trouble, and at times was unable to raise myself in bed. Foley's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by the Chief of the Fire Department. After using 3 bottles I was completely relieved and have never had a return of the symptoms." Why suffer when you can get relief from rheumatic pains, backache, swollen, sore and stiff joints, sleep disturbing bladder weakness and other symptoms of disordered kidneys. For sale at Rose Mehringer's.

Krodel-Rumbach

Mr. Cletus Krodel, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Krodel, and Miss Della Rumbach, daughter of Mrs. C. Rumbach, were united in marriage in St. Joseph's church Tuesday morning.

Both bride and groom are well known and popular young people. The groom is employed as a cabinet maker at the Novelty Works and the bride has been employed as book keeper at A. M. Bohnert & Son's elevator.

A reception and wedding dinner and supper were had at the brides home on West Seventh St. and in the evening their many friends gathered at the Opera House to enjoy the wedding dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Krodel will make their home in the Krodel residence on North Main St.

Good Help In Summer.

Indigestion causes worry, nervousness, sick headaches, biliousness, coated tongue, bad breath, bloating, gas constipation and constant distress. Henry C. Thorne, 1002 Harrison Ave., Boston, Mass., writes: "Since taking Foley's Cathartic Tablets I feel fine." They cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver. Cause no pain, no nausea. Not habit forming—just a good, wholesome physic. For sale at Rose Mehringer's.

Geo. R. Wilon was here from Indianapolis the first of this week to attend the funeral of John Gramelspacher.

Foley's Honey and Tar COMPOUND

STOPS THAT DISTRESSING COUGH—checks it quickly and surely, clears the throat of phlegm and mucus, and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

Don't Cough Until Weak

"I am an old lady, 75 years old, and I had a very bad cough from having a gripe. I thought it a good time to try Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and I sent and got a bottle, and it stopped my cough, and I got better. So now I am around the house again."—Mrs. Mary Kibby, Spokane, Wash.

We can prove no imitation or substitute is as good as the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar. For sale by Rosa Mehringer.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?
Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism.

You'll be happy for ever and ever if you attend the big celebration at Huntingburg July 4th.

Mrs. Ed Verberscher and Mrs. Lizzie Schneider, of Evansville were here this week to attend the funeral of Theobald Kiefer.

Will Surely Help Others.

The condition of the human body is reflected by the condition of the kidneys and blood. If the kidneys are not functioning, waste products and poisons cannot be eliminated. Rheumatic pains, swollen, aching and stiff joints and muscles, dizziness and blurred vision are symptoms of kidney trouble. Mrs. A. Lechner, 1129 Main Ave., Clifton, N. J., writes: "Foley's Kidney Pills have helped me and I gladly give you permission to use this testimonial for they will surely help." Sold by Rose Mehringer.

Mrs. Strassler, of Terre Haute was in the city Wednesday to attend the funeral of Theobald Kiefer.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every family should keep this preparation at hand during the hot of the summer months. It is almost sure to be needed and when that time comes, is worth many times its cost. Buy it now.

Mrs. G. E. Norman and children returned home Sunday from Kentucky, where they had spent a few days.

Theo. Kiefer Passes Away.

Theobald Kiefer, aged 66, died at his home on East Fifth St., Sunday afternoon after a brief illness. Deceased was an employee of the Jasper Desk Co., where he had worked for many years and the factory was closed Wednesday morning so the employees could attend the funeral. The funeral was held Wednesday morning, the services conducted in St. Joseph's church and interment in Fairview cemetery.

Deceased leaves a widow, one son Herman and two daughters, Mrs. J. J. Schneider, of this city and Mrs. Fred Reck, of Huntingburg.

Richard Huther returned Saturday from a weeks visit at Louisville.

Andrew Eckert spent the first of the week in Louisville on business.

To Stop Coughing At Night.

Summer bronchial cough keeps not only the sufferer but other members of the family awake. Alfred Barker, 1061 Avondale St., E. Liverpool, O., writes: "I consider it my duty to write and tell the results of Foley's Honey and Tar, which I used for my boy who had been suffering from a bronchial cough for 7 or 8 weeks. Foley's Honey and Tar has done him wonderful good, and I shall always recommend it." It soothes and heals. Sold by Rose Mehringer.

Louis Eckstein attended a lumberman's convention at Chicago last week.

Guy Norman is in Chicago this week attending a furniture market.

Recommends Chamberlain's Tablets.

"Chamberlain's Tablets have been used by my husband and myself off and on for the past five years. When my husband goes away from home he always takes a bottle of them along with him. Whenever I have that heavy feeling after eating, or feel dull and played out, I take one or two of Chamberlain's Tablets and they fix me up fine," writes Mrs. Newton Vreeland, Minoa, N. Y. Take these tablets when troubled with constipation or indigestion and they will do you good.

John Gramelspacher Dead.

John Gramelspacher, one of the pioneer and best known citizens of Dubois county, passed away at his home in Jasper early Sunday, after a period of illness of a complication of diseases extending over several months.

Mr. Gramelspacher was a civil war veteran having served through the war and was engaged in a number of the prominent battles.

After the war he returned to Jasper and engaged in the planing mill business and later organized the Jasper Desk Co. and built the desk factory which he very successfully managed until about two years ago when he retired to spend the balance of his life in ease.

He was also prominent in local politics and held the office of County Auditor for two terms.

Deceased was 76 years of age at time of death.

He leaves two sons, George, manager of the Jasper Veneer Mills, and Gus, Cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Bank, one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Shurig, who lived with him, and one brother Joseph, also of Jasper.

It was his wish that his body be cremated, so after a simple funeral service at the house Tuesday morning the remains were sent to Indianapolis for cremation and the ashes will be placed in the family lot in Fairview cemetery.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine.

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health. Sold by druggists for over 40 years. J. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Otmar Eckerle, Rayburn Crandall, Alex Gugsell and Louis Eger went to St. Louis Sunday, returning Tuesday with three new Gardner cars.

KEPT COFFIN UNDER HER BED FOR 25 YEARS

Used for Aged Woman at Last, But Had Served as Guard and Health Promoter.

The coffin that Mrs. Eliza Bass of Lumberton, N. C., kept under her bed for 25 years has at last been put to use. The old woman has died at the age of ninety-four and they have buried her, as she commanded, in the rude box that kept her close and constant company for so long.

Its proximity soothed her and made her slumbers more satisfactory. She always declared, moreover, it kept her lonely little house on the edge of the village as safe from chicken thieves and other marauders as if she had a pack of fierce bulldogs to protect her.

The negro population of Lumberton and the surrounding country had a deadly fear of the old woman's house. They would go hundreds of yards out of their way to keep from passing near it.

Back in 1898 Mrs. Bass became ill and Arren Ivey, an old carpenter, was brought into the room and instructed as to how the coffin should be made. In a few days a nice box made of heart pine and varnished black was brought into the room and at the old woman's request placed under her bed. Immediately she grew better. This happened several times in subsequent years.

"Why do you get well every time when they bring the coffin out from under the bed?" she was once asked. "Well, I'll tell you," she said; "I hate coffins as much as anybody. So when I see it, it makes me hate to die so bad that I just naturally gets well."

HERE'S A BEARD OVER 12 FEET LONG, 41 YEARS OLD

Way back in '81 Zach T. Wilcox of Carson City, Nev., became enraged—even as you and I—because of a dull razor which—like O. Henry's safety razor—worked on the principle of pulling 'em out, Indian fashion, instead of slicing 'em off.

And Mr. Wilcox swore by Antony's nose and the rest of the family gods that never again would he insult his good face with a bad razor. He kept his word.

And here's Mr. Wilcox today—wearing a beard 41 years of age, 12 feet and 3 inches in length. Which just about seems to establish a record. Can you beat it?

WILL GET $500,000

Lucky Nephew Heir to a Huge Estate Under Will.

Alfred Coterre of Lawrence, Mass., who died some weeks ago, left his entire estate of $500,000 to his nephew, J. H. Coterre, aged twenty-eight, of North Bay, Can.

North Bay intimations state that the lucky youth never before had more than $1,500 in his possession. The final $230,000 of the estate will shortly be transferred to him, but he will continue his present business of conducting a small mirror repair and silver plating establishment.

Coterre has no relatives, is unmarried and will now be one of three wealthiest men in North Bay. He is not unduly elated. He says he will build a new home and put the rest of his fortune in the bank.

CASTS TYPE IN JAPANESE

New Invention Said to Solve Newspaper Problem.

The Patent Bureau at Tokyo has granted to Y. Miyakiga, patent for a typesetting and setting machine which reproduces Japanese characters. The machine includes about eighty type bars, loosely fitted to permit their removal to reach the muzzle of the melting pot. The molds are controlled from a keyboard, the setting and casting being done automatically.

For years experiments have been conducted in Japan and China in an effort to devise a successful typesetting machine for Chinese and Japanese newspapers, but so far the results have not been satisfactory.

SENATORIAL CONTEST STARTS POT BOILING

NEW AND BEVERIDGE FILE PETITIONS OF CANDIDACY WITH SECRETARY OF STATE.

CONTEST AROUSES INTEREST IN ALL PARTS OF STATE

The Indiana political pot for the Republican nomination for United States senator has started boiling now that both Senator Harry S. New, who is a candidate for renomination, and Albert J. Beveridge, who served two terms in the senate, have filed their official petitions of candidacy, as required by law, with the Secretary of State at Indianapolis.

Mr. Beveridge, who has been stumping the state for the last two years in an effort to work up sentiment for his candidacy, officially announced on Feb. 16 that he would oppose Senator New. It is said that Mr. Beveridge intends to continue his attacks on the Harding administration in an effort to defeat Senator New, who is closely associated with the President.

Mr. Beveridge and his managers say that there has been a "spontaneous" movement in the state to back the ex-senator for the nomination. However, the alleged "spontaneity" has caused considerable comment among many of the leading Republican men and women over the state who have been close observers of the political situation. These Republicans say that Mr. Beveridge and his managers have been working for two years in an effort to work up a "spontaneous" meeting for Mr. Beveridge but that on the day when Mr. Beveridge officially announced his candidacy only 123 persons attended the meeting.

Senator New in Washington

Senator New has announced from Washington that for the present at least he will not return to Indiana to take an active part in the contest, because of his duties in the senate. "I shall not neglect the duties of the term for which I have been elected in order to devote all my time to a campaign for re-election," Senator New said.

As a member of the senate committee on foreign relations which is Added Demand Is Now Predicted for the Dress Goods Which Possess High Luster.

Next fall promises to supply an added demand for dress goods which possess high luster. The vogue for such materials is already well established among the better class of weavers. Pile-finished goods are expected to have a leading place in the business on cloakings. Twills, featuring the same luster, also promise well. The novelty cloths are tending toward those of rep character. Quadrilles, or line checks, appear to be favorites, together with the shadow plaids in which the pattern is defined with nubbed yarn.

Roses of Silk.

Small roses of the material trim many afternoon and evening gowns. One particularly pretty frock was of pink opera satin and showed the scalloped edges bordered with three rows of small silk roses. Similar roses formed a shaped girdle over which fell the edge of the long-waisted semi-fitted blouse, and the short sleeves were ornamented with the roses.

"With all my earthly goods I thee endow" has been stricken from a marriage service as a concession to the groom. Also, as often irrelevant, incompetent and immaterial.

The cockroach is said to employ radio communication, but it will scarcely be tolerated on that account by even the most rabid "bug."

"Why all this talk about flappers?" inquires a contemporary. Why all this talk about anything? And isn't it more pleasant to talk about something pleasant than something unpleasant? Well, then.

MYSTERY OVER EFFIGY

Negroes Attracted to the Scene Display Great Fear of Voodoo Evils and the Evil Eye.

Havana.—Reining in his shambling horse, an aged negro cab driver early one night recently removed a bundle from the shadows of his coach and deposited it in the doorway of an aristocratic residence near the Malecon, Havana's bay-shore drive.

The flickering light of a near-by arc lamp made it possible for passers-by to distinguish the outlines of the bundle. Apparently it was a rude effigy, the head an unhusked coconut, with the fiber unraveled enough to give the appearance of straggly hair, and the legless body a stuffed, ragged coat, to which were fastened bones and what apparently were twigs and berries.

The cab driver hardly had disappeared before a small group had congregated on the sidewalk before the portico that sheltered the effigy. The group swiftly grew into a small crowd, composed mostly of negroes and mulattos. Noisy before they caught a glimpse of the motionless figure, the spectators, after giving one glance, lost their animation and became a part of the whispering, nervous assemblage.

The suppressed excitement became more pronounced when a negro band, ragged Haitians from the country, started a monotonous air on their tom-toms and notched calabashes.

Nobody touched the effigy, not even the policemen attracted to the scene, who confined their energies to keeping the sidewalk clear.

The windows of the house itself remained shuttered and closed, although gleams of light indicated the family was awake, even if not desirous of protesting against uninvited visitors. As the hour grew later the crowd dwindled, those leaving hastening their steps as they passed through the deserted streets, with apprehension in their backward glances and frequent signs of the cross, inconspicuously supplemented with fingers crossed against the evil eye.

Fear of voodoo evils whose fearfully muttered names were often linked with the words, "death before sunrise," sent them hurrying homeward.

But before dawn the effigy had disappeared.

FORM 'ORDER OF LOYAL DADS'

Every Man Whose Son Fought in World or Spanish War Is Eligible to Membership.

Fort Meyers, Fla.—A new patriotic society, "Order of Loyal Dads," has been organized here and is very much alive. Sheldon Foote, the founder, the "Dad" of the organization, is receiving no end of letters from all over the country. The father of any service man, or ex-service man of the United States army and navy, whether in the Spanish war or the World war, is eligible to membership.

The order desires affiliation with all patriotic organizations, particularly with the American Legion.

The new order rests on several fine American planks, of which the two strongest are:

"We proclaim our adherence to the Constitution and laws of the United States of America."

"We believe and proclaim that the way to lasting peace is patriotism in time of peace, and we recognize the necessity of force to establish and maintain peace; moral force, and armed force, if need be."

SEES PARENTS' DEATH-FIGHT

Girl of Thirteen a Witness When Mother Slays Husband in Chicago.

Chicago, July 11.—Mary Balough, wide-eyed and speechless with terror, witnessed a desperate battle between her father, Kalmer, and her mother, Mary, which ended when the mother seized a knife and stabbed her husband dead.

Neighbors who ran in found the wife unconscious beside his body. According to the daughter, who is but thirteen, Valmer Balough had been drinking and was upbraiding his wife for her conduct at a Sunday picnic. She retorted that he would have to quit drinking or she would leave him. He lunged at her with a butcher knife, but she wrested it from him and plunged it three times into his left side. The woman was badly stabbed and cut before she got the knife.

Found "Unknown Soldier" Was Her Missing Son

Just as the body of an "unknown soldier" was being lowered into the grave at St. Paul, Minn., Mrs. Mary Johnson, drawn to the service by the ache of a mother heart for her missing son, asked that the coffin be opened. She staggered back, sobbing.

The body was that of her son, George L. Johnson, a disabled veteran, who was killed two weeks ago on his way to take a position obtained through the American Legion. The body had lain unclaimed in the morgue.
